When you aren't feeling well, the last thing you want to do is go out. Instead of waiting for a doctor's appointment, wasting hours commuting to the office and sitting in the waiting room, and exposing yourself to illness, teleconsults offer quality health care without the hassle for less than the average co-pay. No need to leave the comfort of home, work or even vacation to get the care you need, anytime day or night.

Talk with a board certified doctor over the phone for quick and easy treatment of non-emergency conditions.

Here's how it works:

- Call 855-717-6800 to start your teleconsult
- A telemedicine representative will verify your eligibility and collect basic information, such as your date of birth, medical history and current symptoms
- Pay your co-pay amount with a credit or debit card
- If a doctor is available, you will be immediately transferred to start your consult
- If a doctor is not immediately available, your contact number will be confirmed and a doctor will call you back within one hour to start your consult
- Don't forget to tell the doctor if you need a note for school or work, or if you would like to receive a consult report to share with your primary care physician (PCP)
